

Training Programme organized for Farmers of Tamilnadu State

ICAR-IIPR has been conducting training for various stakeholders of pulses i.e., Farmers, Agricultural officers and other private and NGO officials. As a part of its activities of organizing training of farmers from various states on pulses production practices. It has organized a 03 days farmers training programme for 19 farmers from Thirunelveli district of Tamil Nadu state during 31st July to 02nd August 2018 on “Integrated Crop Management in Pulses” sponsored by ATMA, Thirunelveli. Dr. N.P. Singh, Director, IIPR, Kanpur has addressed the participants during the inaugural session of the training regarding importance and status of pulse crop in Indian agriculture. He also focused on how to double the farmers income in pulse based cropping system. Dr. Rajesh Kumar, Head, Division of Social Science has briefly introduced the participants on training programme. The training programme will be dealing with all the pulse production practices from sowing, seed quality, management, plant protection to post harvest management in pulse crops.

